

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES
BREAD FOR THE WORLD

Writing letters: You can help create long-term solutions to the global hunger crisis by joining Bread for the World's letter writing campaign to your senators and representative in Washington. Urge them to change U.S. policy to ensure that no one in Washington, DC or the rest of the world goes hungry. The letters are most effective if they are handwritten and you will receive examples and material to help with writing them.

Lobbying Congress: Join with others to visit your senators' and representatives' offices on Capitol Hill to speak out for hungry people.

Bread for the World Leadership Team: Become a part of this team in Washington, DC, by contacting Marco Grimaldo, 202.639.9400 or mgrimaldo@bread.org.

Educational Events: Watch our website: www.bread.org/ for educational events held in the greater Washington area to keep you informed regarding hunger issues.
